

LILIAN VILLARET

Polina Pritykina

Contemporary Artist | Saint Petersburg, Russia | b. 1997

Rhythm-based multidisciplinary artist working at the intersection of fluid art, wearable art, dream poetics, and movement. I translate an inner pulse into paint, word, body, and sound. My practice is rooted in emotional alchemy — transforming unbearable feelings into visible form. Each painting is a document of a feeling that cannot be spoken aloud.

I work with peak states: joy, pain, dreams, ecstasy, silence, inner fire. My visual language is built from four elements: ocean & waves, flame & smoke, thunder & lightning, universe.
